

HER GREAT MATCH

The latest offering of the Metro Program is a unique romance entitled "Her Great Match," from the pen of that master story builder, Clyde Fitch, whose plays dealing with the age-old but over-new elements contained in love and femininity created their own vogue, when originally presented. Gail Kne, whose potent dramatic charms bewitched Broadway audiences in the stellar roles of "Seven Keys to Baldpate," "The Miracle Man" and other notable stage successes, is seen in the leading part in "Her Great Match," wherein she repeats the distinctive artistic efforts, which won for her such notable laurels on the speaking stage. "Her Great Match" is a five act romantic drama from the play studio of Popular Plays and Players and will be seen at the Pantages today, afternoon night.

State Conclave of Mayaville Commandery No. 10 K. T. this evening at 7 o'clock. Conference of degrees. All Sir Knights are urged to attend. Refreshments.

FOUR STRAIGHT

Lexington Won Saturday and Sunday Games and Cleared Upon the Series.

Lexington fought an up-hill battle with Mayaville Sunday and won in the ninth inning by making three runs, the final score being 8 to 6. By winning this game the Colts made it four straight victories from the locals, having a clean bill for the series.

Mayaville seemingly had the game won until the terrible ninth inning finish. Skinner pitched the entire game for the locals and although he had been hit rather hard was keeping the score down to a safe point and was especially strong with men on bases.

Manager Guyn was kept rather busy yanking his hurlers. Thomas, a southpaw, started the game for the visitors but lasted only three innings. Hannah took his place and managed to pull through two rounds. Burge then took up the burden and managed to pull through until the ninth when he was relieved by Lingrel.

With the score standing 6 to 5 in the ninth Wright, the first Lexington batter, walked and was sacrificed to second by McClellan. Beers bounced one to Kelly and was thrown out at first. Lingrel batted for Burge and knocked a home run, scoring Wright ahead of him. White singled, stole second and went to third on Kelly's error. Guyn singled scoring White, Barrett fanned.

The next three Mayaville batters went down in one, two, three order.

The box score follows:

Saturday's Game

Mayaville lost Saturday's game to Lexington by the score of 18 to 4. After hitting Surrency for thirteen hits and sixteen runs Manager Jones went in for the locals and allows but two more runs to be scored. Rorer was hit hard by the locals but was never in danger owing to the large score piled up early in the game.

NOTES

Mayaville is now on the road for eleven days, playing twelve games. The schedule of the trip is as follows: Huntington—May 22 to 25. Lexington—May 26 to 29. Charleston—May 30 to June 1. They return home on June 2 for four games with Frankfort and four with Charleston.

Pitcher Winble French arrived Saturday morning and played center field the last six innings of Saturday's game. He was given an ovation when he stepped to the plate.

Mueller had a big day Sunday, getting a home run, triple and single out of four trips to the plate. In Saturday's swiftest Manager Guyn of the Colts secured two triples and two doubles out of five times at bat.

The fans are very much disappointed in the playing of Kelly at short. He is not putting up the class of ball that he did last year.

Rev. J. M. Lital, pastor of the Third Street M. E. Church, preached at the Union M. E. Church at Covington Sunday morning and evening in the absence of the regular pastor, who delivered the baccalaureate address to the graduating class at Union College, Barboursville. Rev. A. F. Peits of the Forest Avenue M. E. Church preached at the morning service at the Third Street Church, while Rev. H. D. Cooper of Dayton had charge of the evening service.

THE SLEEPING DOVE—MANY HEAR EVANGELIST LAST NIGHT

Despite the threatening weather last night, the Growers Warehouse was well filled with people coming from all sections of the city of Mayaville. The chorus singing has not been better than that of last night. Special numbers were also sung by a quartette and by Earle Yenreley. The latter sang by request the solo, "Some Where A Voice is Calling" the sacred words to which were written by the evangelist.

The address of the evening was one of the characteristically good messages from Rev. Herbert Veuell. The sermon was based on the story of the dove which after flying about found rest and protection. He described the various wanderings of the human in search for pleasure which does not satisfy. The speaker's oratorical powers, his dramatic talents and his wonderful diction were put to test when he described in figurative language, the hypocrite in the church. These persons might be considered as enemies of the returning penitent who like the dove has found rest in the world no rest. He had no patience with the man who could see in the church none but the hypocrite, human cock-creeps as he called them. These various animals in their did not prevent the dove from coming back to its only place of real rest, nor should the whole menagerie of hypocrites keep any person from coming back to God.

Both the morning and afternoon services were well attended. There was no invitation given in the Bible School but in the church service there were five more who responded to the invitation then given. The meeting tonight will be addressed by Evangelist Yenell on the theme "Shall We Know Each Other in Heaven?"

HELP!

We would like to call the attention of the Board of Health to the nauseating smells that permeate the atmosphere on the Second street extension near the scene of the recent fire. What the cause is we do not know, but it more than likely that a little disinfectant would do much to alleviate the stench.

NEW SUPERINTENDENT

And Heads of Other Departments Announced For Mayaville's Fifth Biennial Chautauqua.

Mayaville's fifth biennial chautauqua is to be held June 25 to July 6, inclusive. Mr. Will J. McEwen is to be superintendent. Dr. E. F. Daugherty, morning lecturer, and Miss Abigail McGillivray, children's worker.

For twenty years Mr. McEwen has been engaged in lyric and chautauqua work and in that time he has witnessed the fine influence exerted on communities by these twentieth century methods of entertainment. He is thoroughly experienced and well able to conduct the week's program.

In his series of morning lectures Mr. Daugherty is to draw lessons from modern books. His "Modern Challenge" "Inside the Cup". His interpretations are sure to please chautauqua patrons.

Miss McGillivray is especially fitted for director of children's work at the local chautauqua, having taken a special course of training in the Columbia College of Expression in Chicago. She is to meet with the children twice each day, and on the sixth night of the chautauqua, she is to have charge of a unique feature to be known as "The Mother Goose Festival."

There is every indication that this year's chautauqua will break all records for attendance and interest.

Rev. W. F. Jones, the Sunday School man, was a visitor in the city Saturday.

HOW MRS. BEAN MET THE CRISIS

Carried Safely Through Change
of Life by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Nashville, Tenn.—"When I was going through the change of life I had a tumor as large as a child's head. The doctor said it was three years coming and gave me medicine for it until I was called away from the city for some time. Of course I could not go to him then, so my sister-in-law told me that she thought Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound would cure it. It helped both the change of life and the tumor and when I got home I did not need the doctor. I took the Pinkham remedies until the tumor was gone, the doctor said, and I have not felt it since. I tell every one how I was cured. If this letter will help others you are welcome to use it."

—Mrs. E. H. BEAN, 525 Joseph Avenue, Nashville, Tenn.

APPLES AND OPTIMISM

There are many persons of excellent judgment who will tell you that the apple in its perfection is the finest fruit that nature provides. Not only is it agreeable to the palate, but certain medicinal virtues have been attributed to it by numerous admirers. It is not a matter of enthusiasm; apple lovers are devoting their time to the formation of apple clubs. He holds that apple and optimism are almost synonymous terms and makes many astonishing claims regarding the effects of the fruit. It will cure dyspepsia and shattered nerves and the worst cases of pessimism. And the only condition imposed upon the members of the Apple Club of America is that each member must eat at least one fresh, ripe apple every day and try to induce others to follow his example. Just at present the apple apostle is in Boston spreading his peculiar cult and recruiting his "orchards." As an evidence of his thorough earnestness in the work it is stated that he not only devotes all his time to it, but pays the entire expense as well. And he is quite confident that as the result of his labors the ranks of those who will be won to the apple creed should be numbered by the hundreds and thousands.

Of all the peculiar beliefs that are designed to engage the attention of mankind none is less harmful than this of the Apple Club. The busy American fails to appreciate the pleasure as well as benefits that a liking for fruit will bring him. We are not the fruit loving people that our forefathers were, and if the promoter of the new cult can renew this ancient liking his efforts are deserving of earnest encouragement.

Adversity lifts up many a man whom prosperity has knocked down.

"MOVIES SUPERIOR TO STAGE IN MANY WAYS," SAYS TREE

In the June Woman's Home Companion Sir Herbert Beerbohm Tree, the great actor and manager, comments on the superiority of the movies in certain ways to that of the regular stage.

"The purpose of art is to portray human emotions. The motion picture has possibilities in many ways greater than those of the stage. The stage is limited to interpretation by means of the voice. Here is a new interpretation of moods and motives by means of facial expression. My work in 'Macbeth' required much greater expenditure of emotional force than is necessary for a single performance on the stage.

"The stage has its limitations in other ways. What reader of 'Macbeth' has not longed to be thrilled at the sight of Birnam Wood come to Dunsinane? All the gorgeous pageantry accepted upon the screen. The coronation of Macbeth, only suggested in the play, is made a big scene in the film.

"There has been tremendous advance made in the motion picture. For illustration, eighteen years ago pictures were made of my performance of 'Henry VII' and 'King John.' They were merely photographic transcripts of the stage production, entirely without meaning except to those who were perfectly familiar with the play and could recall the lines appropriate to the action.

"The production of 'Macbeth' that has just been made for the film represents the highest form of pantomimic art, and is perfectly intelligible to every spectator, whether he has ever read the greatest enjoyment will naturally be for the one who knows his Shakespeare."

CONCERNING DR. SOYDEA

Dr. Juchel Soydea, who has lately accepted the presidency of the Imperial railway bureau, is one of the accomplished Japanese best known to foreign visitors to Japan for his unwearied courtesy, his keen intelligence and refined hospitality. Dr. Soydea was once the vice-minister of finance and for a long time has been governor of the Industrial Bank of Japan. He is also connected with the French-Japanese bank. He is well known in America, where he was sent by the Japanese Chamber of Commerce as representative to visit the Japanese residents in the United States, in connection with the California land dispute some years ago.

The two French generals, Gallieni and D'Amade, whose names figure prominently in the map of action, and had a long career of almost unbroken success. He was the youngest general of the division in the French army since the days of Napoleon and, like Napoleon, is a Corsican. As a military commander his reputation for brilliant resourcefulness is borne out by the way he sent 20,000 men to the front in Paris expeditions when these men were in a great hurry. General Gallieni is a man of the people, and his popularity is well attested to his own abilities exclusively.

A SPORTING CHANCE (Collier's.)

Offhand, we should say that the person who would be least amenable to being molded into a good soldier is the chap who has his monogram on his cigarette. But you never can tell. Anyhow, military training ought to do him a world of good.

QUOTATIONS POPULARLY ATTRIBUTED TO THE GOOD BOOK

"There are a number of sentences not in the Bible which everybody thinks are there," said a clergyman. "The chief of these sentences is, 'He tempests the wind to the shorn lamb.' You would search the Bible pretty thoroughly before you would find that sentence in it. Where you would find it would be in Sterne's 'Sentimental Journey.'"

"Sterne got a good deal of praise for the origination of this sentence, but it was originated, as a matter of fact, before he was born. In a collection of French proverbs published in 1594 we find, 'Dieu mesure le vent a la broche today.' That convicts Sterne of plagiarism.

"In the midst of life we are in death." Everybody thinks that is in the Bible. It isn't, though. It is in the burial service.

"That he who runs may read." This is another sentence supposed, wrongly, to be Biblical. It is not Biblical, though the Bible has something very like it—namely, 'That he may run that readeth.'

"Proned to sin as the sparks fly upward." The Bible nowhere contains those words.

"The nation shall be born in a day." The nearest thing to that in the Good Book is, 'Shall a nation be born at once?'

A FAIR WARNING

(Albion (Tex.) Sun)
WARNING! TAKE NOTICE
Having repaired all the fences around my pasture (better known as the Rowan pasture) all persons are forbidden to trespass thereon or to haul anything therefrom in any way, and any one entering said pasture lays himself liable, and the best way to keep out of trouble with me is to keep out of my pasture. No one has any right in it without my permission, and I will have some of those trespassers have treated me mean, having hauled away everything that I could have used to build a bridge and camp house with therefore they must keep out or we will have trouble.

A. M. Attee, Bonnie, Texas.

CAT'S DAILY LUNCH A SNAKE

(Carlisle (Penn.) Cor. Philadelphia Record)
Evidently considering a day incomplete unless it includes a lunch on snake meat, a cat belonging to Charles Shultz has set a record for snake catching. The Shultz residence, which is near the Indian School grounds, has been a center for snakes recently. About one week ago the cat brought in a two-foot copperhead in his mouth, and after it had been killed by a member of the family, lunched off of the choice portions. Three snakes were caught on subsequent days by the animal and Sunday he worked overtime, securing two.

MUCH GRAIN GROWN IN PERSIA

The arid wastes of Persia would lead one to believe that the country does not produce sufficient grain to supply the needs of its population. Such, however, is not the case, and considerable quantities of grain are exported each year. The principal grains grown are wheat, barley and rice. Corn is planted in small quantities, but is only used for roasting ears. Oats and rye are seldom sown. Except along the Caspian coast Persian agriculture is dependent almost entirely on irrigation. The agricultural implements used in Persia are of the most primitive kind. Plows are made from forks of small trees with the addition of a share of iron. It is stated to be doubtful, however, whether the yield of grain would be greatly increased by using modern plows, as there is no sod and this crude implement seems to stir the soil fairly well.

THE ORIGIN OF "NEWS"

(New York Herald)
No doubt many persons think the word "news" is derived from, or has connection with, the adjective "news," and will be surprised to learn that it has nothing whatever to do with "news." In this way it originated: On newspapers and periodicals was generally printed in the "olden times" the sign:

Probably indicating that the readers were offered facts from all parts of the world. Gradually the lines were omitted, and in their stead only the letters were used: "N. E. W. S." The next step was the formation of the word "news" from these letters, namely, "News."

In this great and glorious land of the free one has to pay for the drinks in order to get a whack at the free lunch.

CONCERNING A HEN

A hen can't plow corn, hoe cotton or split wood, but she can get there just the same. She don't cost more than a drink of whiskey and a plug of tobacco, but she can pay eight per cent interest on twenty-five dollars in a year, and pay her board besides. The fellow who thinks a hen can't make money don't know anything about a hen. Take an old speckled hen for instance, that's had no raising at all. One that's been thrown out of the corn crib, knocked off the porch with the broom, and chased out of the garden by a worthless pup. Just take that sort of an old-fashioned hen, and let's see: She lays at least twenty-five eggs on a stretch, and then goes to setting on thirteen of her eggs. The other dozen pays her keep while she sits on eggs into chickens, and while she is scratching for them after they are hatched and before being weaned. That sort of a hen generally raises about eight of a brood, that sell for two dollars. But we must knock off $1 for her raising and put only $1 to the credit of old spec, who loafs awhile, and then repeats her performance, and again we have another dollar to the credit of our hen. Well, it's now midsummer and she lays awhile, and then she takes another laying spell and lays another quarter of a hundred of eggs and then sets again and brings on a fall brood that sells as before and we credit her with another $1 of the produce of another batch of eight chickens, which makes three dollars to her credit over and above all expenses. Then she lays a little more and sheds her feathers, and knocks about and scratches for a living until toward the holidays when she takes another spell of laying, and lays a good lot of eggs by Christmas and until, but don't set because it is too cold. But along about February she starts again and lays right sharply for a month or more, until she is around to the time where she started in last year, and in footing up we find she has paid all expenses and three dollars besides in twelve months. A pretty good showing for a 25 cent hen.

SOUTH AMERICA IN 9000 B. C.

The greater the number of the succeeding phases of civilization the more even must be the average length of each and thus resembles the general length of human periods. It is to be seen that the two central European periods, those of Hallstatt and of La Tene, together embrace about a thousand years, an average of 500 for each. The cultured periods of Egypt may be even longer.

The development of Peruvian civilization, accepting on the average five successive periods, would result in a stratification of cultures representing between 2,000 and 3,000 years. About the year 1000 B. C., at the time when Solomon built his temple, the early Americans in Peru reared their mighty structures to the glory of a creator god. Civilization in America would beyond all doubt have worked itself up to a high plane at some time and might have accomplished alone a peculiar but certainly brilliant development without the intervention of European civilization.

Better a bare-faced lie than a two-faced woman.

SUGGESTION AS TO HOW TO FORETELL FINE WEATHER

(St. Nicholas)

If you want fine weather, look for fine weather signs. Here are some of the most reliable, for they are based upon scientific facts:

When the sun sets in a sea of glory, that is, when the sunset sky is red, at night, when the moon is clear and shows clean edges, with no halo or ring of mist surrounding it, there is little danger of rain.

When the wind blows steadily from the west, the weather will continue fair, as very rarely rains in our Eastern States with the wind in the West. Watch the smoke from the chimney or from your camp-fire—it is a good barometer. If the smoke rises high it means clear weather. The smoke will also show you from which direction the wind is blowing; so will a flag on an upright flag-staff.

A gray early morning, not a heavy cloudy one, promises a fair day.

A heavy dew at night is seldom followed by rain the next day. Think of it this way and you will remember wet feet, dry head.

If there are no clouds at the western horizon, you need not worry about others.

Animals are said often to show by their actions what the weather will be, and there is reason in this. Some of them certainly have a knowledge of coming storms. We are told that spiders are especially sensitive to weather changes, and, when they make new webs, the weather will be fair; if they continue spinning during a shower, it will soon clear off.

BULLET IN BRAIN 35 YEARS

(Portland (Ore.) Cor. New York Sun)
Carrying in his brain two bullets that were fired at him by a posse in 1881 when he and George Sontag, both desperate train robbers, terrorized the people of Fresno and Tulare counties, California, Chris Evans, who has been on parole from Folsom prison since May, 1911, walked into the county hospital at Sacramento and asked that the doctors remove the lead and relieve him of pain.

Accordingly, Evans, who is now 75 years old, will be operated on by Dr. W. J. Harris, Superintendent of the hospital, in an effort to save his life. The bullets are causing the right side to become paralyzed. One bullet is in the brain above the right eye, and the other is behind the right ear. Evans on obtaining his freedom from prison worked for a time as a city watchman in this city. For four years Chris Evans lived in Portland. He came to Portland immediately after he was paroled from Folsom prison in 1911. His family had been residents of Sacramento for several years. In this city Evans bore himself as a quiet and industrious citizen.

HOME CANNERS

Fifty thousand girls were enrolled in the girls canning clubs of the Southern States in 1915. Allowing for growth and taking in the entire United States, we shall probably have a quarter of a million this summer.

Of these southern girls 7793 rendered full reports to the Department of Agriculture, showing that they used an average of two hundred and fifty cans each at a profit of $23.80. At that rate the canning clubs this year will put up 2,600,000 cases of canned tomatoes—reckoning all the products in terms of tomatoes. One of the finest things in rural life is the club movement for boys and girls. In canning, however, it is a step away from the factory system and back to home production. This is, perhaps, a good thing. Educationally, it is a splendid thing. Economically, it is a splendid thing. Economically, it is, to say the least, very interesting—Country Gentleman.

DILLHOEFFER BELIEVES IN BEING PREPARED

(Portsmouth Times)
Catcher Dillhoeffler, of the locals, believes in preparedness. Yesterday he received a whole car load of bats of the Louisville slugger variety. There were six bats in all and "Pickles" is sanguine they will last him until August 1st, by which time he hopes to be leading the league in hitting. The bats are almost the size of "Dilly" for the Cleveland lad swings one of the heaviest clubs in the league. And there is a whole lot of power wrapped up in that pair of compact shoulders Dilly lugs around. When he swings on the ball and connects some feller is given an ocular demonstration of how to dodge cannon balls—either that or the bruised bulb is slammed so far away that the chances are the ball if found will be entirely unfit for further use—just a souvenir. Dillhoeffler is in the finest kind of shape and the local can right now lay claim to having the best catcher in the league. Watch Dilly scatter the pepper from now until Labor Day, and watch his exhibition of sharp shooting.

POSITIVE PROOF

Should Convince the Greatest Skeptic in Mayville

Because it's the evidence of a Mayaville citizen.
Testimony easily investigated.
The strongest endorsement of merit. The best proof. Read it:
Mrs. Della Luneford, 328 E. Front St., Mayaville, says: "I attribute kidney trouble to a strain. I had sharp, shooting pains through my kidneys and a dragging-down feeling through my hips. I had dull headaches and dizzy spells and often if I had not enough hold of something for support, I would have fallen. I was in that condition for several years, up one week and in bed the next. I finally began to notice symptoms of dropsy. My feet began to swell and my hands were at times the same way. Finally, I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they cured me."

OVER THREE YEARS LATER Mrs. Luneford said: "Doan's Kidney Pills completely and permanently cured me and I am glad to confirm all I said in their praise before."
Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Luneford has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

OLD STUMP HIDES TREASURE

(Dover (Del.) Cor. New York Sun)
Vision of finding an unknown quantity of money, jewelry, etc., have filled the minds of several workmen on the farm of General A. R. Benson, near Dover, who have already unearthed what is supposed to be a buried treasure of stolen goods.

The find consisted of four watches, two of which are gold; three solid gold women's rings, solid gold watch fob, gold breastpins, besides a $20 gold piece, two $10 gold pieces, two $5 gold pieces and one $2½ gold piece, all found around a large stump, which the workmen set about a few days ago to remove.

All of the jewelry and gold were well preserved except one of the watches, in which the works had rusted. The latest find, the $20 gold piece, has inspired the workmen to greater diligence.

It is the belief of General Benson and others who have visited the place from which the stump was dug, that the jewelry and gold were stolen and buried several years ago.

"NO TRESPASSING"

An editorial in the June Woman's Home Companion says:

"Two men whom we know have summer places side by side. Both estates are closed during the winter months, and unprotected except for the occasional visits of a discreet caretaker. Both are near the road and easy of access.
"The first owner has posted his estate with large signs headed 'No Trespassing,' threatening to visit the rigors of the law on those who disobey.
"The second owner has printed over his signature this modest notice:
"This house and the grounds about it are a home. Visitors are invited to regard themselves as the guests of the owner and to enjoy themselves in any way that does not destroy the flowers and shrubs nor endanger the woods by fire."
"Which estate, do you think, shows the less damage when the other returns in the spring?"

SPARE THE ROD OR SPOIL THE CHILD

In the June Woman's Home Companion a writer says:

"Corporal punishment should be a rare thing in any home. Child-study experts tell us today that it leads to the brutalizing of the child's nature. When it seems the only way to deal with a child, it should be administered most carefully. But some other punishment is almost certain to have better results both in the child's disposition and in his conquering of the wrong impulses.
"Last of all, parents should be merciful in their punishments."

PURPLE COW BORES BURGESS

In May, 1885, Gelett Burgess penned the following lines according to the Woman's Home Companion:

"I never saw a purple cow,
I never hope to see one;
But I can tell you anyhow
I'd rather see than be one."

Since that time Mr. Burgess has been introduced some hundreds of times as the author of 'The Purple Cow,' which has belled and moored at him wherever he went, allowing no chance for escape. At last these lines were attributed to him by another writer:

"I never saw a purple cow—but may I straight be gored by one
If any man since this began was ever quite so bored by one."

SUFFRAGIST

Explains the Suffrage Situation and Tells How Committees Work.

On Saturday, May 20, acting under instruction from the campaign committee of the Kentucky Equal Rights Association, in every county in Kentucky in which a Woman Suffrage League exists, a committee from the League went before the Democratic County Convention to solicit the votes and influence of county delegates to the State Democratic Convention in Lexington, May 20, for a Woman Suffrage plank in the State and National Democratic platform.

In Mason County Chairman Gordon Sulser graciously invited the Chairman of the Suffrage Committee to make known to the convention the purpose of the committee, and the entire convention was courteous and interested attention while the representative of the suffragists spoke. Believing that the time was not ripe to ask for the adoption of a resolution endorsing suffrage, the Mason County Committee asked that the convention receive a request in the name of the large number of men and women in Mason county who believe in Woman Suffrage, that the delegates from Mason county to the Lexington Convention support a suffrage plank in the State and National Democratic platform.

The committee consisted of: Miss Alice Lilly, Chairman; Mrs. John Hall, Miss Bessie Wells, Mrs. George T. Harbison, Mrs. Sallie Ricketts, Miss Lillie Blanchard, Mrs. Abner Ford, Mrs. Murray Hubbard, Mrs. T. M. Russell, Miss Elizabeth Hecox, Miss Any Plaster, Miss Jessie Yancey, Mrs. G. W. Gelsel, Mrs. Eugene Merz, Mrs. E. I. White, Mrs. Galanty.

In some counties where the suffrage sentiment and leadership are strong as in Fayette county, the home of Senator Thomas A. Combs, who led the suffrage cause to such brilliant victory in the Senate during the last session of the General Assembly and Representative W. G. Hobbs, who made a gallant fight for suffrage in the House, the convention was asked to endorse woman suffrage in a resolution.

The purpose of the Suffrage State Democratic Committee of which Mrs. Richard Gasher Louder, Jr., of Danville is Chairman, in having committees at the Democratic County Conventions in that as few delegates as possible to the State Democratic Convention in Lexington, May 24, should be able to say that no woman in their counties wanted suffrage or asked them to vote for a suffrage plank. This is the real benefit the Central Committee gets from having committees at these county conventions.

DEMOCRATS

Hold County Convention Saturday Afternoon—Wilson Endorsed For President and Delegates Instructed—Suffragists Attend.

The Democratic County Convention was held at the Court House Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Mr. A. G. Sulser acted as chairman of the convention and he stated that the convention was called for the purpose of electing delegates to attend the State Convention at Lexington on May 24. On motion of Mr. W. H. Rees the temporary organization was made permanent.

In the resolutions presented by Hon. James N. Kehoe, Woodrow Wilson was endorsed for re-nomination as President of the United States at the National Democratic Convention in St. Louis. The delegates from this county to the State Convention at Lexington were instructed to vote for Clarence L. Wood as a delegate from this district to the National Convention at St. Louis and Governor A. O. Stanley and Senators Ollie M. Jones and J. C. W. Beckham as delegates at large to said convention. All known Democrats were appointed as delegates to the State Convention.

The Mason County Woman's Suffrage League was present in a body and on invitation of Chairman A. G. Sulser, Miss Alice Lilly addressed the convention for several minutes. She presented arguments in favor of Woman Suffrage and asked that the convention receive a request in the name of the large number of men and women in Mason county who believe in Woman Suffrage, that the delegates from Mason county to the Lexington convention support a suffrage plank in the state and national Democratic platforms.

WALTER J. MILLARD

Addressed Large and Appreciative Audience at Mayslick High School Sunday Afternoon.

On Sunday afternoon, May 21, Mr. Walter J. Millard spoke to an appreciative audience that filled the High School auditorium at Mayslick. The subject of the address was, "Are Women People? Twelve States Say They Are. Why Not Kentucky?" The speaker showed that the introductions of labor saving machinery had taken out of the home the industries of women, weaving, spinning, garment-making, canning, pressing, soap-making, etc., and taken them to mills, shops, and factories. This change by giving to women leisure for culture and social service has given rise to the woman's club movement. By the change 8,500,000 other women have been driven from the home into mills, shops, factories, offices, stores to do the work they once did in the home.

These industrial changes have produced social changes and there is call for political readjustment to meet the new conditions. The leisure of some and the necessities of others has led to the education and development of women as never before and qualified them intelligently to lead a hand in the needed political readjustment. From these premises the speaker made a convincing argument for the enfranchisement of women.

Mr. Millard has had wide range of experience and observation. He is possessed of broad human sympathies, a quick sense of humor and soon gets in rapport with his audience. His address at Mayslick was enthusiastically received and at the conclusion of the meeting twenty-two membership cards were signed.

Mr. Millard spoke to a good sized crowd of people on Market street, this city, Saturday afternoon.

PLANE OF WORK

For Education Presented To Federation By County School Superintendent Jesse O. Yancey.

Miss Jessie O. Yancey, County Superintendent of Schools, presented the following plans of work for education which were approved by the Federation of Women's Clubs at Friday's meeting:
"Resolved, First, That the Federation Committee on Education shall cooperate in every way possible in the campaign for Literacy Movement in Kentucky—further that the work formerly known as the School Improvement League movement shall be continued under the name recommended by the State Department of Education, Community and School Improvement Leagues. That the following resolutions adopted by the Georgia Women's Clubs and recommended by the Conference of Education in the South to Kentucky be:
"First—To bring about a federation of clubs and agencies in a Community League.
"Second—To work out a practical League Program that will insure the development of the industry, the home, the school and the church. All together as essential factors in community life.
"Resolved, That this committee give active assistance in placing all children, normal and otherwise, in schools provided for them by the State, and that the interest now created in vocational education be continued and fostered.
"Third—This committee recommends that every club assist the school superintendents in enforcing the compulsory attendance law; that in conformity with this plan these superintendents be requested to take careful census in this county of all blind, or deaf and dumb children, and that clubs take the steps to place these children in the blind and deaf and dumb schools, part of the public school system of Kentucky."
